DR. HAYS gave notice last Sunday that he would on next Sunday morning, the 9th inst., preach a sermon on the subject of the revision of the Presbyterian Standard. All persons who desire to become acquainted with the question and to learn Dr. Hays' views are invited to attend.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Christian Church gave a "social" in the chapel from 7 to 10 o'clock last evening. About fifty of the active and associate members were present, and spent the hours in a most enjoyable manner. Refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, cakes, ice cream and sherbert, were served during the evening.

At the lead mine on the farm of Dr. J. M. Viley in Scott County, this State, two shafts have been sunk, and the ore is smelted by a Hartford furnace, operated on the grounds. It has proven a very rich galena ore, averaging fully twenty-five per cent. of lead. The company has a bonanza—anything above ten per cent. of the net results of the ore being profit. The company has rented, leased and purchased about five thousand acres of the land that this fissure vein of galena ore runs through.

The Storm.

Old Winter has been a little slow, but he arrived in fine style yesterday.

The snow storm that set in early yesterday morning developed into a pretty severe blizzard during the afternoon, but abated in the night. This morning dawned bright and clear with the temperature down to about six degrees of zero, the coldest of the season for this section.

The snow fall amounted to four or five inches, and the merry tinkling of the sleigh-bells is heard on the streets to-day.

Railway News.

The Chesapeake and Ohio dining cars have all been put through the shops, and look as bright as new silver dollars. From now on the cars will be run through to New York regularly. These cars are attached to the F. F. V. General Passenger Agent Fuller is determined to have the best dining car line in the country.

Eastbound C. and O. trains were delayed yesterday by a small freight wreck near Foster, and the westbound were delayed by a similar wreck near Concord. The track was gotten clear about noon. No one hurt, as far as learned. In the afternoon, it was reported that about four hundred feet of the track near "Coney Island" had slipped into the river, but the matter must have been exaggerated, as the trains came through last night. The passenger trains are a little behind, but they are moving along all right.

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

A Lewis County Crime Revived By the Arrest of One of the Murderers.

A few days since John Blyew was lodged in jail at Vanceburg to answer for a cruel murder committed twenty years ago. A special gives the details of the crime.

In August, 1868, Blyew and George W. Kennard inhumanly murdered four negroes named Foster, and almost killed another of the family. The colored family lived in Stont's Bottom, Lewis County, and were quiet and well-behaved people. Blyew and Kennard, in company with two lewd women, went to the house on Saturday night, and, being refused admittance, went away, but soon returned, and with an ax literally cut to pieces the old woman, eighty-four years of age, her son and his wife and boy, and seriously wounded a little girl, who is now the only living eye-witness to the shocking murder.

The murderers were soon apprehended and lodged in jail at Vanceburg. The grand jury at the November term of the Circuit Court found five indictments against each, but before trial they were taken by the United States authorities to Louisville, tried before the United States Circuit Court, convicted and sentenced to be hanged. The State then took the case to the Supreme Court of the United States, claiming that the United States authorities were usurping the rights of the State. The laws of this State at that time did not permit a colored person to testify in any case. The Legislature of the State employed Hon. Isaac Caldwell and Hon. Jeremiah Black to represent the State and the point claimed by them, viz., that the Civil Rights bill did not apply to the case at issue, was sustained by the Supreme Court, Justices Swayne and Bradley dissenting.

The prisoners were then delivered to the State authorities and duly tried, ex-Congressman Thomas representing the defense, and which resulted in a hung jury. Pending the new trial Blyew with a number of prisoners broke jail, Kennard refusing to avail himself of the opportunity for his liberty. By this act he gained much sympathy, and was released on bail at $1,000. He was let alone for quite awhile, but formed dissolute habits, was surrendered by his bondsmen, tried, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. He served about eight years, when he was pardoned by ex-Governor Blackburn. He has since married and now lives in West Virginia.

Blyew succeeded in eluding the officers and finally entered the regular army, serving a term of five years, after which he married a rich widow, and has been a resident of Texas for a number of years. He returned recently to visit his relatives, and Constable H. Gose, learning of his whereabouts, arrested him. He will be tried for the crime, committed over twenty years ago.

Stock, Crops and Turf Items.

James N. Boyd, of Dover, shipped 700 bushels of wheat to Williamsburg, W. Va., a few days ago.

The Wallace Trotting Register Company rejects the records of twenty-two horses who trotted in 2:30 or better in 1889. They rejected the performances of Dick Wilkes 2:26½, Loroly 2:28½, made at Harrodsburg, because the track is short. Count Wilkes, 2:25½, and Georgetown, 2:19½, made at Blanchester, Ohio, track, short. Bald Wilkes, 2:30, Blanchester, Ohio, irregular. Fancy Bess, 2:27, Elkhorn, 2:28½, Suseite, 2:20½, and Vation, 2:28½, made at Frankfort, not a regular meeting. The performances are rejected under the rules of the Breeders' Association.

It is estimated that the people of the United States consume each year about ten millions of fat sheep; that is one sheep to every six or seven individuals. We are a nation of meat eaters, and this is too small a portion of such a wholesome and palatable meat. We could and should consume twice as many fat sheep, and probably would if such a large proportion of the mutton marketed were not of very poor quality. We would be the better, as a people, by substituting good mutton for much of the other flesh we consume—better both in the matter of wholesomeness of the food and in the matter of economy.—Exchange.

Repairing the Break.

A Kentucky Central construction train arrived this morning and commenced the work of repairing the break which occurred a few days ago on the track connecting the K. C. and C. & O. There has been some dispute between the companies over the matter. Each claimed that the other had to keep the connecting track in repair.

KEY DEPOSITS.

A Statement From Ex-Postmaster Respass in Regard to the Matter.

Editor Bulletin: In order that those persons who do not understand fully the nature of postal laws regulating key deposits, and the disposition of same by postmasters, I respectfully submit the following statement:

First, my predecessor, Captain M. C. Hutchins, sold me his fixtures, containing 285 lock-boxes, which boxes were used by me up to the time my successor qualified. There was no deposit of 50 cents asked or required by me from holders of the above number of boxes.

Captain Hutchins turned over to me a key and forfeiture fund amounting to $96. I paid out afterwards for redeeming keys, $73; I paid out afterwards for new keys, $23; total, $96—the said fund being thus exhausted.

Article 5, section 495, Postoffice Laws and Regulations, provides at offices in buildings leased by the Government with box outfits covered by the lease, the postmasters are required to hold such key deposit as a trust fund.

Article 8, of section 495, provides as follows: "Postmasters who provide their own boxes may require a key deposit at their option, not to exceed 50 cents per key. If they omit the requirements they must inform the First Assistant Postmaster General."

The post-office at Maysville, Ky., is not leased by the Government, as application for that purpose was made to the Attorney General at Washington and refused.

In order to bring the conveniences of the postoffice within the reach of numerous patrons, and at the same time increase the revenues of the office, I took advantage of article 8 (above mentioned) and notified the Department of such intention. This enabled me to use my own discretion as to the price of a key, which, in some few instances, 2 cents per key was asked, (that being the price charged me by the locksmiths in this city), and a great many were furnished free, as an inducement to rent boxes. The small charges thus made by me were expended in supplying new keys and conditioning boxes, with the exception of twelve persons, (whose names are withheld for prudential purposes), who have a deposit coming to them and will receive same in their boxes on the 31st day of March, 1890, the day ending the quarter for which they have paid their box rent, and the time the keys are redeemable. Respectfully, A. O. RESPASS.

River News.

Most all the packets are said to be enjoying a good trade.

The White Collar Line are uniforming the officers of all their packets.

Mr. T. J. Nolin, steward on the Chancellor, stopped off yesterday and spent the day here with relatives.

The Rainbow laid up at Cincinnati this morning, temporarily, and there will be no packet for Pittsburg to-night.

Captain Calhoun's new Keystone State will leave Pittsburg next Monday, taking the Stockdale's days in Pittsburg and Cincinnati trade.

Due up: Chancellor for Portsmouth at 9 p. m. and Bostona for Pomeroy at midnight. Down: Andes this afternoon and St. Lawrence to-night.

The Portsmouth packet, W. N. Chancellor went into Cincinnati Monday night with over 100 passengers. She is handling lots of freight also.

THOMAS A. DAVIS, P. M.

In the matter of local legislation the State Solons of Kentucky are not much worse than their brethren of Ohio. In the Legislature at Columbus there have been 500 bills introduced in the House, of which 220 have passed that body. The Senate is more moderate, there only having been 136 bills introduced there, of which forty-five have passed and thirty-six have become laws. Of the House bills 153 have become laws—mostly local in their application.

An act of the Legislature has to be an excellent one and not contain any objectionable features, if it receives the approval of Governor Buckner. It is well for the people that they have such a keen-sighted and faithful executive at the head of State affairs.
